The Grand Award and Smart Healthcare Gold Award of Smart Living Award was presented to Dai3mimi Health-Tech Limited for its “Dai3mimi”. Dai3mimi uses the latest patented acoustic technology of material conduction system from a combined metal & plastic materials to transmit sound waves from the device into the inner ear through the skull directly, making hearing possible by bypassing the outer ear, the eardrum, and the middle ear where these areas are the most easily infected, damaged, and degenerated areas. Dai3mimi not only restores the hearing ability of the elderly but also provides mobile communication which enables telemedicine for hearing impaired patients. It also helps relieve symptoms such as tinnitus, depression, and dementia through its patented rhythm vibration mechanism.

Dr. Alex Chung, President of the Hong Kong Information Technology Federation stated, “HKITF is the leading organiser of the Smart Living Award for the fourteenth year. We are thrilled to see all the innovative ideas and the integration of everyday technology by the award contestants that they had brought to creative life. While Web 3.0 is a certainty, technology developed rapidly and there are many innovative products in the sectors of clothing, food, housing, transportation, communication, and healthcare. It is hoped the products will be more inclusive, resilient and sustainability, taking Hong Kong's I&T development to a higher level.

About the Hong Kong Information Technology Federation

The Hong Kong Information Technology Federation (HKITF) was founded in 1980 as a non-profit, nonpolitical trade association to provide a forum in which the IT-related business in Hong Kong can work together for the benefit of the industry and to maintain a high level of business practice amongst the members. HKITF acts as the bridge for international IT companies looking for local partners and works with trade commissions to host trade promotion events. It supports and sponsors various IT sectors to develop focus groups; promotes local IT business through various activities; and also helps keeping members abreast of local IT developments and business opportunities. In the public sector, HKITF works closely with government to promote the development of the local IT industry. HKITF represents the industry on many government committees for policy and regulatory issues. For more information, please visit www.hkitf.org.hk.
